There are said to be 600 American girls studying music in Milan alone, and hundreds of others in other Italian cities.

Charles Holmes, of Rochelle, Illinois, died in terrible agony Saturday. He mistook a jug of insect poison for whisky and drank its contents.

Massachusetts had her first Arbor Day just Saturday, and it will be observed annually hereafter. Many trees were planted. Pennsylvania last week instituted a similar day for yearly observance.

The principal commercial languages of the world are English, spoken by 100,000,000 people; Russian, 60,000,000; Germans, 50,000,000; Spanish by 60,000,000; French by 40,000,000, and Italian 28,000,000.

Members of the ex-Confederate army have just as much right to flaunt their old banner on the lake front and to eulogize Jeff Davis and state rights as have Parsons, Schwab and their followers to talk treason to republican institutions under a red flag.—Chicago Journal.

A prominent coal-mine operator in West Virginia declares that one-half of the coal companies of that region are on the brink of bankruptcy, and that the threatened strike of their employes for higher wages, if carried out, would push them to the wall, and throw from 10,000 to 15,000 persons out of employment.

Washington bartenders think they can locate a statesman by his drinks. Southern legislators drink whisky straight and in abundance. Western men rather incline to beer; those from the Pacific coast drink wine, and although they insist that their country can't be beat in producing wine, they usually buy foreign wine, and costly. New York men are divided between wine and beer and fight shy of whisky.

A special from Winnipeg, Manitoba' says: "The great northern Cree chief, Big Bear, and three of his head men, all of whom have been pining under the restraints of penitentiary life at Stony Mountain, in this province, for nearly a year, for their acts in connection with the Riel rebellion, have been set at liberty and ordered back to their reserve."

C. E. McChesney, Indian agent at Cheyenne river, has served upon all residents of Fort Pierre, Dakota, notice to close at once their trading establishments on the Sioux reservation and depart within thirty days. The village has 800 inhabitants, and the enforcement of the order will entail a loss of $500,000. The square mile on which the squatters live was once sold by the Sioux chiefs to the Chicago & Northwestern railroad company, but congress failed to ratify the sale.

A dispatch from San Francisco announces that the transcontinental railroad war is ended, but the rates given are only $62.50 for limited tickets to Chicago, and $81.50 to New York. It is said that from twenty to twenty five car loads of passengers have lately left Kansas City daily for the Pacific coast, and that every old coach has been brought into use.

The Chicago Staats Zeitung calculates that on account of the labor disturbances in that city, and the general perplexity which they have caused alike to builders contractors and investors, the amount of building expenditures in Chicago this season will not exceed $8,000,000. In January the estimate was $20,000,000. This stoppage of anticipated building improvement will deprive of steady employment many thousands of masons, brick-layers, carpenters, painters, plumbers and mechanics of almost every name.

Special Easter services were held Sunday in the churches throughout the country, and they were attended by large congregations. The services in the Catholic churches in New York were grand and imposing all the choirs having been increased. Archbishop Corrigan assisted in the services in St. Patrick's cathedral, and the Right Rev. Harvey Goodwin, bishop of Carlisle, participated in the services at Old Trinity church. In many cities, commanderies of Knights Templar had special services in the churches.

Every steamer leaving the port of San Francisco takes away in the neighborhood of 400 tons of dried shrimps and fish in the proportion of 150 tons of shrimps, 200 tons of sardines, salmon, etc., and fifty tons of shrimp shells and fish manure. The shrimps are the most valuable, bringing in Canton an average of $300 per ton. The sardines and salmon are worth $200 per ton, and the refuse $40 per ton, or a total of $87,000 for the 400 tons of product. For years the shipments average three a month, or thirty-five shipments a year, being an export of $3,132,000 worth of stuff.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been adapted by every civilized nation. It is called in French "La Case de l'Oncle Tom;" in German, "Oncle Tom's Hutte;" in Danish, "Onkel Tomas;" in Dutch, "De Negerhut;" in Flemish, "De Hut van Onkel Tom;" in Hungarian, "Tamo's Batya;" in Italian, "La Cappanna Della Zio Tommaso;" in Polish, "Chata Wuja Tomasa;" in Portuguese, "A Cabana do Pai Thomaz;" in Spanish, "La Cabanna del Tio Tomas;" in Russia, "Khizhina Dyadi Toma;" in Swedish, "Onkel Toma's Stuga," and in Welsh, "Caban F'Ewyrth Tom."

A special from Benton, Mo., to the Post-Dispatch states that Rev. Benjamin Deering of St. Louis, has been for some days past holding a series of revival meetings, which have been wonderfully successful. Sunday night some one, as yet unknown, placed in the pitcher of water which the revivalist had placed upon the desk from which he was speaking a large quantity of croton oil. Several persons drank of the water before the services began, drank a glass of the water, and was immediately taken sick. All who tasted the water are to day in a precarious condition. Two saloon keepers have been arrested on suspicion, and it is thought they poisoned the water in order to end the services which were having such a depressing effect upon their business.

Three hundred workmen, says the Chicago Evening Journal, employed in the repair shops of the Northwestern railroad at Cicero, have petitioned the company for a reduction of hours from ten to eight, and for an advance of 25 per cent, in their wages per hour. They desire the changes to be granted May 1. The general officers of the company have the matter under consideration. General Manager Marvin Hughitt is reported as saying that he had not given any answer to the petition as yet. He said that as a matter of business the work would not warrant the advance in wages without a loss to the company. "The public," said Mr. Hugaitt, "need not expect any general disturbance, as we always deal fairly with our men, and whether the request is granted or not there will be no serious trouble." The officers are not prepared to-day to say how soon they will answer the petition of their Cicero workmen.

A MISCHIEVOUS RECOMMENDATION.

The Chicago Times, which seems to be the only paper published in the western metropolis which posses the courage to call things by their right names, when speaking of the labor troubles, contains a column editorial in a recent issue criticising President Cleveland's recommendation for a special enactment by the national legislature as a panacea for labor disturbances This journal treats the subject in the light of discriminating in favor of certain labor castes, and very truthfully and forcibly says:

"The proposed law would be made expressly for and applicable only to citizens having a particular status—namely, that of hired servants. To workingmen that are not consigned, by choice or by circumstances, to the limits of that class, the law would have no application. Much the greater part of all men in this country who work for a living are in agriculture and its allied industries. They are not hired laborers, nor 'wage-workers,' but men that employ their own capital and labor on their own account. They toil more laboriously than workingmen of any other description; but they are not heard clamoring for eight-hour laws, nor seen organizing strikes and fomenting insurrections and committing depredations upon the persons, liberties, and property of others. They are not enrolled in any 'noble order' of socialistic swashbucklers with a name borrowed from the knightly freebooters of the dark ages. They have not surrendered their personal freedom and manhood to the dictation of upstart despots of the style of Mr. Powderly and Mr. Irons. They are the most laborious and industrious, as well as the most numerous, workingmen of the country; but they are not within the limits of the class, or caste, for whose particular benefit the president recommends special legislation, and what is more, they have no ambition to be consigned by statute or otherwise to the limits of such a caste."

The fact is too often overlooked in cities where labor organizations are strong, that but a small percentage of the wage workers of the country at large are represented in an organized capacity. To the tens of thousands of men, who by strict economy have succeeded in acquiring homesteads, and who by hard and constant toil, not eight hours a day, but all the daylight of the working days are accumulating, not a fortune, but simply a living, add the large class of contented artisans found in every hamlet, village, and thriving town scattered over the country, and you have a vast army of toilers, who are not in sympathy with the royal knighthood, or kindred organizations. Economy, not arbitration, is the practical problem which should interest and command the attention of all our discontented laboring classes.

As a rule American labor is rewarded with a competency sufficient for comfortable support and a bank account, which in ten years would transform the wage worker into a capitalist. This transformation scene is recurring in all parts of our land continually and the vast army of toilers who grasp the American idea that capital is within the easy grasp of every honest and frugal artisan, outnumbers in a ratio of eighteen to one, the class of discontented foreigners who fail to appreciate in the slightest degree the privileges and opportunities of American citizenship. "Personal liberty" in its broadest significance, means the right and the disposition to squander the earnings of the laboring classes, while American liberty means the disposition and the ability to practice a healthful economy, creating capital instead of discontent.

As a nation we shall survive the present turbulent spirit of rebellion in spite of executive sympathy, because of the fact that right and an overwhelming majority are in harmony with loyalty to our national institutions.

The following paragraph from the Madison Democrat is a very striking text for a discourse upon the evils of too much immigration of the wrong kind to this country.

The same issues of the metropolitan dailies that announce the emigrants who arrived at Castle Garden for the first quarter of 1886 as a little more than the arrivals for the same time in 1885, also announces great Sunday demonstrations of communists and anarchists in New York and Chicago in which meetings and processions the red flag took the place of the stars and stripes and scarcely a banner was seen in English, and not a man in the procession but foreigners. Is there anything in those arrivals of emigrants which Americans need rejoice over? Have not the past few months pretty conclusively shown that the United States is becoming the home of all the communists, anarchists, dynamiters and boycotters of the old world. How many of the "blood and thunder" foreign fiends who spoke in Chicago on Easter Sunday are citizens of the United States even on paper?

While the good citizens of the country were at churches thanking God for an Easter morning and for the graces of Christ's life which have permeated every part of the globe, in this country where freedom is getting to be dispised because of its cheapness, there were enemies of law and order, and consequently enemies of the United States, marching the streets of the large cities, with banners bearing such mottoes as these: "Social Revolution," "Down with the throne, the altar and capital," "Workingmen, arm yourselves," "Capital is a curse," and one in New York was "Give us bread and not churches."

It is not difficult to tell the tendency of such sentiments as these. They are designed to bring about a social revolution to make war against capital, the only thing that keeps mills and factories in operation, and to make the condition of things here as bad as they are in Russia. We are getting, as the Madison Democrat suggests, "too many of the nihilists of Russia, socialists of Germany, communists of France, and dynamiters of Ireland." This is becoming a serious question for the United States. Every year brings tens of thousands to our shores who come to make trouble and not to become useful citizens. They come to stir up strife, to defy the law, to engage in mob violence and in strikes to prevent well disposed men from working. It is a singular commentary on our laws that prohibits the immigration of Chinese counting them unworthy of enjoying the sunlight of America, when not one of them ever went out on a strike, ever engaged in a riot, ever paraded the streets of a city with incendiary motives, or ever attempted to destroy capital, the power, and only power in this country, that gives the workingman his wages.

VAN WYCK TURNS HIS BATTERIES LOOSE WITH VIGOR.

Danger to the Celestial Streets if the Railway King Gets to Heaven—Stanford's Criticism of Cullom's Bill—Springer and Warner Propose Labor Measures.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—Van Wyck and Stanford were the speakers in the senate Monday on the matter of regulating the railways as provided in the Cullom bill. Van Wyck said the through rates from the west now nearly amounted to confiscation. Another rise would be prohibition. Last year he had said that the people in some sections of Nebraska were compelled to burn corn for fuel, and that it required the bushels of corn to purchase one ton of hard coal. This condition did not apply to the entire state, yet, last winter in more than half her territory, people were again compelled to burn corn for fuel, because of excessive rates of transportation. The basis of charges was "all that the traffic will bear." We were in the midst of depression, yet all pursuits must be laid under contribution, so that full dividends shall be declared by railroad companies on watered stock and fraudulent bonds. As to the commission feature of the bill, the people are not demanding a commission, but the corporations were becoming earnest advocates of it. Railroad and telegraph rates west of the Missouri river were about four times greater than rates east of that river. For years capital has been organized, unscrupulous and rapacious, moving as Gould had moved, according to his sworn testimony, and as Huntington according to his own written history, hadmoved, on state legislatures, the courts and congress, unblushingly purchasing judges and legislators. But the crisis was coming. There was an irrepressible conflict between right and wrong. Could the nation be made to believe that the four billions of watered stock and bonds were honest property, deserving protection from courts or legislatures, or that the $300,000,000 claimed by Vanderbilt and the $200,000,000 claimed by Gould were honestly obtained? The owners of these fictions should accord decent treatment to the remainder of mankind from whom they expected to force dividends and interest. The senate committee failed at the precise point where the monster evil should be grasped by the law. If the industries were only required to pay fair dividends on the real cost of railroads, the nation would be prosperous.

The senate could take an example from Jay Gould. The senate committee on education and labor had industriously obtained from that worthy a complete history of his life, probably for the youth of America to imitate. The committee had tremblingly and beseechingly implored him to give a minute account of his daring exploits, and he unblushingly consented. Early in life, when hard pressed for dinner, he adopted his sister's method, and went behind the blacksmith's shop to pray. The blessing came in great measure. In a few years the tanning business in which he was engaged was in financial stress so overwhelming that his partner was driven to suicide, while he himself bought a railroad. The wrong partner had committed suicide. The committee was doubtless dazed as much by Gould's recital as by reading the exploits of Jack the Giant Killer, or Kidd the Pirate. Modesty induced Gould to refrain from telling one feature of the history of his time. At Kansas City he was once overtaken with another religious spasm, and wrestled a second time in prayer, telling the people how happy he was, and that he wanted no more money. He had purchased the Missouri Pacific only for the good of mankind, and should use it only for the glory of God and the benefit of the people. As he was contemplating another raid, he felt the necessity of another installment of divine grace, so he went, "short" on the promise by pretending that he would not benefit himself by the blessing. It was to be hoped he would not indulge in a third prayer on earth. Should he, in the end, secure an entrance into the New Jerusalem, he would soon be conspiring there from force of habit, to buy a railroad; and when he should have torn up the shining avenues, the angels could not restrain him from stealing the golden pavements.

The strong arm of labor, Van Wyck said in conclusion, had always protected the nation in the day of peril. There need be no fear to the republic from the organization of labor. The ranks of the Union army had been recruited from the men who had been dealing in mines.

Stanford then addressed the senate on the bill. It purported, he said, to be an act to regulate commerce between the states. He had read it with a good deal of care, but did not find anything in it that regulated commerce. Everything in it was as to the carrier only. Commerce had a well defined meaning. It meant trade, barter, interchange of commodities—matters with which the carrier, in the transaction of his legitimate business, had no concern whatever. He therefore thought the title of the bill ought to be changed to express its true meaning. Instead of being called "A bill to regulate commerce," it should be "A bill to regulate carriers." If it were a bill to regulate shippers and owners, whose material the carrier moved, the title would be more appropriate. Of course the constitution plainly gave congress the right to regulate commerce between the states. But as the carrier had nothing to do with the control of the shipment of goods, wares and merchandise, or their ultimate disposal or destination, the regulating of him or determining the price he should receive for his services could have no relation to determining the commerce between the states.

It was pertinent, Stanford said, to inquire into the wisdom of this kind of legislation; assuming that the authority for it existed. The right of association was a natural one, and it was the duty of the national and state legislatures to aid that natural right; that, he contended, was what the legislation of the various states, in providing for the incorporation of railroad companies, had done. In discussing this question of the right to regulate railroad fares and freights in a manner which would necessarily impair the carrying capacity of the roads, we should not forget that the investments were made by individuals. If the railroads were so important to the public, surely these individual investors ought not to be discouraged by the apprehension that the value of their investments might be lessened by adverse legislation. Besides, inasmuch as labor entered very largely into the construction of railroads and continued in their operation, any attempt on the part of congress to fix the rates of railroad companies tended to fix the price of labor. Further, in all these efforts at regulation, Stanford found no protection to the railroad companies, no guarantee against impairment of income. No legitimate enterprise should be discouraged, and least of all those that added most to the convenience and comfort of the people, and to the wealth, strength and dignity of the nation.

Says the Republicans Will Do It.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—Senator Blair in his speech in the senate Monday advocating a constitutional prohibitory amendment, said it was time for the prohibition idea to assume control of national parties—at least of the Republican party. That party could not permanently remain three-fourths for prohibition and one-fourth against it. That was less possible than it once was for the nation to remain permanently one-half slave and one-half free. Ideas never compromised. We were now at the dividing of the ways. For himself, he (Mr. Blair had been down in this hole long enough. Sooner or later, and he hoped not much later, we might come to ourselves, like the prodigal, and proceed to climb up and out. He had on this occasion spoken partly as a Republican, but he did this only because he believed that thus did he speak most as an American and most as a man. That party, with all its faults—with all its failures to reach its ideals—was the great agency which, under God, had saved the republic, and would yet apply itself to the destruction of the dark evil.

CONGRESSIONAL LABORS.

Important Matters Up In Both Houses—Synopsis of the Record.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—The credentials of W. C. Whitthorne, appointed by the governor of Tennessee to fill the vacancy caused by Jackson's resignation, were presented in the senate Monday and he was sworn in after Hoar had called attention to the fact that the credentials read "to fill out Senator Jackson's unexpired term," when they should have read "until the next meeting of the legislature." The brewers' bond bill, amended to require brewers to renew their bonds every four years whether requested by the collector to do so or not, was reported. Blair spoke in advocacy of national prohibition of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors as a beverage, declaring that the time had come for national politics to deal with the question. The inter-state commerce bill was then taken up, and Van Wyck and Stanford spoke on the subject. The appropriation committee reported the postoffice appropriation bill, and then, after further discussion of the Cullom bill, the senate adjourned.

In the house an attempt to have May 12 set a part for consideration of Pacific railway business was defeated by objections. A bill forfeiting the grant to Michigan in aid of the Marquette & Ontonagon railway was reported. Bills were introduced: For the admission of Dakota (Springer); to establish a department of labor and provide for arbitration of states (Springer); resolutions by Wilkins and Grosvenor of Ohio against putting wool on the free list; to regulate inter-state commerce and provide for arbitration on labor disputes (Warner of Ohio); to amend the Pacific railway acts so as to provide for the railway indebtedness to the United States; to investigate the Pennsylvania and the Maryland mining troubles; resolutions of sympathy with Gladstone and Parnell (O'Neil); the river and harbor bill then came up and the chair providing for the purchase of the works of the Green & Bonen River Navigation company in Kentucky was amended so as to provide for the purchase of the works on the Monongahela river. Hiscock tried to get in an amendment providing for an inquiry as to what the New York consols can be bought for but it was ruled out on a point of order and the house adjourned.

BILLS FOR ARBITRATION.

One Measure Proposed by Springer and Another by Warner of Ohio.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—Representative Springer introduced a bill in the house Monday for the establishment of a department of labor, the general duties of which are to collect facts on subjects connected with labor. It is to consist of a commissioner and two assistants, the salary of the first to be $4,000 per annum, and the salaries of the latter $3,000. They are to investigate all cases of controversy between labor and capital, whether asked or not, and when requested by the parties sit as an arbitration board and give decisions on questions submitted to them. The decisions are to have legal effect only so far as provided in the terms of submission, and copies of the decisions are to be transmitted to any court which, by the said terms of submission, may act thereupon. The board is endowed with all the powers necessary to the performance of its duties, send for persons and papers, and must report its findings to the president for transmission to congress.

Warner of Ohio also introduced a bill for the same purpose and also to regulate interstate commerce "by land." This bill provides that common carriers must secure license from the government and the board is to consist of five members appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate, no more than three to be of the same political party. In arbitrary labor matters the board selects two disinterested persons and those two select the third, and the award has the force of law. It is provided that any person who obstructs or hinders the running of trains or who shall by force, or intimidation prevent from engaging in the service of a common carrier shall be guilty of misdemeanor and be punished therefor: and also all persons who shall combine or conspire to prevent the running of trains, shall be also guilty of misdemeanor and punishable by fine or imprisonment or both.

GOT A VOTE ON THE BILL

The House Committee Come to a Decision on the Educational Bill.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—The house committee on labor Monday night adopted by a vote of 10 to 8 the Crain bill as a substitute for the Willis bill. It appropriates $75,000,000, instead of $77,000,000 as provided in the Willis or Blair bill. The bill in full is as follows:

"A bill to provide for the distribution of the proceeds of the sales of public lands among the states and territories for educational purposes.

"Section 1. That the proceeds of the sales of all public lands belonging to the United States be, and the same are hereby dedicated and set apart for the support of common schools already in existence, or which may hereafter be established within the states and territories; provided, that not more than $800,000 be expended in a single year.

"Section 2. That at the expiration of each fiscal year the secretary of the treasury shall apportion and distribute among the several states and territories, in proportion to their scholastic population between the ages of 8 and 14 years, the net proceeds of the sales of all public lands which may be in the treasury, and all moneys so distributed shall be expended by the several states and territories in the same manner which they expend the revenues raised therein by local taxation for the support of common schools.

Crain of Texas, was directed to report it to the house.

The Pacific Railway's Bill.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—The bill reported to the house Monday by the committee on Pacific railroads for the legislation of the indebtedness of the Pacific railroads to the government adds to the present debt of the roads the interest that would accrue during the eleven years in which the existing bonds are to run, assuming that no further payments are made by the companies. The total is divided into 140 equal payments which are to be represented by a series of bonds falling due semi-annual the last bond maturing seventy years after the issue. The average annual payment by the companies would be about $4,000,000 and it is argued that the total amount which the companies will pay under the bill will exceed the principal represented by the existing bonds.

EXIT GEORGE GRAHAM.

A MORAL MONSTROSITY WHO WILL WRITE NO MORE LETTERS.

The Mob, as Usual, Anticipates the Law and the Sheriff

And Puts a Period to the Career of the Wife Murderer—His One Virtue Stays with Him to the End and He Doesn't Flinch Before a Sudden and Shameful Death.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 27.—At 1.30 o'clock, Monday morning a mob of 400 armed men surrounded the county jail and began parleying with the sheriff for the surrender of George E. Graham, the wife murderer. The sheriff would not comply with their demands, but they soon battered in the doors and secured the prisoner.

At 2 o'clock the mob started out of town on Boonville street, with Graham in their midst.

It was thought the mob would take Graham to the Molley farm and hang him, and then throw his body into the well where his wife's body was found.

But the leaders of the party artfully gave their followers the slip by starting in the direction of the Molley place, but changed their course as soon as the others turned back, and while yet within the city limits hanged him to a tree, within just one hour after the attack was made on the jail.

Sheriff Donnell said: "I have heard so much talk of mobs that I gave up the idea of one. The first thing I knew was about 1 o'clock, when masked men broke into the room and said, 'We are friends; don't be scared,' overpowered me, and then requested the keys of Mrs. D. Getting tired of refusal, the leader said: 'Well, boys, bring the tools.' One of the party, who evidently knew where they were, walked straight to the drawer where the keys were kept and forced it open. I know nothing of how Graham took it. I was kept close in the room."

Mrs. Donnell said: "They were cool and collected. When they unlocked Graham's cell he said: 'You can hang me, but, by G—d you can't scare me.' They tied his hands behind him and marched him through the hall with a rope around his neck. He was as white as a sheet, but otherwise never flinched."

The mob is variously estimated at 150 to 400.

Graham's estimate said it was the quietest piece of business he ever saw. Graham never flinched, but said: "By G——, I ain't scared."

Graham made no entreaties for them to spare him, but went to his death coolly, and died apparently without a struggle. The mob dispersed in all directions. The following notice was pinned to his body:

OBITUARY NOTICE.

When the coroner is in possession of this paper, George E. Graham will be dead, and as little punishment will have been inflicted as if he had been hanged by legal authority. It is a matter of right to the community and justice to humanity that we ignore the law in this instance. We recognize the fact that our criminal statutes are not equal to all occasions. Therefore, we have resolved to remove from our midst the worst criminal who has ever infested our county, that we may hereafter and forever live and be without his presence and vicious influence. We heartily welcome all strangers to citizenship who are worthy of it.

We give this, too, as a warning to ex-convicts and murderers who may hereafter invade our county to impose upon our credulity. We also give warning that any person or persons of any rank or station who dare to discover the actors in this tragedy will be surely and speedily dispatched to hell, where all things are revealed to the curious. In justice to the memory of Sarah Graham, a loving wife and dear mother, whose life was sacrificed at the altar of Hecate, we subscribe ourselves citizens of Greene county, Missouri.

TO SHERIFF DONNELL: Keep your mouth shut. If you recognize any of us you will die the death of a dog.

PLUCKY PURDAM'S FIGHT.

One Man Against a Mob but He Was a Good Man.

MANCHESTER, Tenn. April 27.—Col. J. M. Hughes' revenue force made a successful raid upon the illicit distilleries in Hubbard's Cove, Coffee county, about ten days ago. Sunday night between 12 and 1 o'clock Webb Purdam, a member of his force, who is a citizen of Manchester, was aroused from his slumbers by a mob of masked men bursting through his bed-room door. They were about twelve in number, and without warning they began to fire a deadly volley into the bed where Purdam, his wife and children were sleeping. Purdam, though mortally wounded, his left side and arm being filled with buckshot, rose with a revolver in his hand and returned the fire, felling two of the assassins to the floor. This frightened the mob, who picked up one of the wounded men and fled, leaving the other where he fell. Purdam, who is noted for his pluck and nerve, jumped out of bed, seized his double-barreled shot-gun, leaped over the prostrate form on the floor, and followed in hot pursuit of the fleeing mob. When he got to the yard gate he fired both barrels, which were heavily loaded with buckshot, at the retreating desperadoes, sending two more to the ground. They, too, were assisted by their comrades, and all except the wounded man left in the house made their escape. The wounded man proved to be Mack Clark, a legal distiller, but who is said to have been dealing in crooked whisky for some time.

Sheriff Ashly and a posse started at an early hour in search of the assassins. One arrest has been made, but his name could not be learned. Purdam is mortally wounded. Clark's wounds are serious, though not necessarily mortal. Purdam's wife and children miraculously escaped without injury, though the bed beneath and the wall above were perforated with leaden missiles.

ORGANIZATION OF EMPLOYERS.

Brass Men Acting Together—Opposition to the Eight Hour Move.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The manufacturers of brass and iron steam, gas and water materials have formed an organization of protective union. The association represents 95 per cent. of all the capital invested in the business, and is composed of fifty firms, who employ 10,000 men and have $10,000,000 invested in tools and machinery. The firms are located all over the United States, and the President is Mr. A. T. Foster, of this city. Mr. Foster says: "The association is for mutual protection. Hereafter all troubles with our employes will be handed over to an executive committee for advice, and when the committee gives a decision we will stand by it. We have no hard feelings toward the Knights of Labor, but we propose to do our business in our own way."

MISSISSIPPI RIVER BOOMING.

The Record Beaten at Helena—Breaks in the Levees.

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—The Times-Democrat Helena special says: The river reached the high water mark of 1882, the greatest flood ever known, at noon Monday and continued to rise steadily until 6 o'clock, when it was four inches above that point.

Reliable information reports a large crevasse below here, near Arkansas City. The steamer, Belle of Memphis was drawn in the break, and could not be pulled out. The damage from this break cannot be estimated yet. There is also a crevasse at Stovall's place, four miles below Friars' Point, which will put many farms under water. At Delta, La., the levee is in a precarious condition and there are several dangerous caves in the bank at East Carroll Parish, La. Helena will probably be flooded by back water.

A Good Year for Railroad Building.

CHICAGO, April 27.—M. E. Ingalls, of Cincinnati, President of the "Big Four" Railroad company, has been here for several days watching the railroad movement in which C. P. Huntington is engaged. He said Monday: "There is one view of the railroad situation that ought to be encouraging to the public. There will be more railroads building this year than for a long time. The Chicago & Northwestern, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Northern Pacific, and other roads in the northwest have already ordered the construction of at least 5,000 miles of road. That takes an enormous amount of iron, and ties and labor. I know of other lines under contract or to be put under contract that will swell this figure to 7,000 miles. Every day I hear of little feeders that are to be built, of short lines that are to be constructed, of which the public hears little or nothing. I believe from my observation that not less than 10,000 miles of railroad will be constructed in this country this year.

Called His Attention to the Law.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The Granite Stone-cutters union have called the district attorney's attention to the fact that George Berry, an agent for a Texas contractor, brought over eighty-four stone-cutters from Aberdeen, Scotland, to work on the state capitol at Austin, Tex. A provision of the United States statutes says that no contractor shall pay the passage or otherwise aid any foreign laborers under contract to come to this city. The penalty is $1,000 for each offense.

That American Schooner Released.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 27.—The American schooner seized at Baddock, Cape Breton, for infraction of the fishery laws, has been released on order of the Dominion government. It is understood that the principal offense was on the part of the master, who was found shipping men to engage in the season's fishing. He, on being caught, sent the men ashore and paid their wages in full. This has satisfied the authorities, and the boat was allowed to go.

Trouble in Grain Prices Predicted.

NEW YORK, April 27.—Notice was posted at the produce exchange Monday that the state canals will open May 1 instead of May 10, the date previously fixed. There is said to be over 1,000,000 bushels of grain at Buffalo and along the line of the Erie canal, and 5,000,000 bushels further west. Some of the merchants figured out two results likely to follow from these conditions, viz: a tumble in grain quotations and a break in rail freight rates.

Foreclosed on the Houston and Texas.

GALVESTON, Tex., April 27.—A bill of foreclosure was filed against the Houston & Texas Central railroad in the United States circuit Monday by the Farmer's Loan and Trust Company of New York, trustee in the general mortgage. The suit forces the road to an early sale. Between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 acres of the choicest land in Texas belonging to the company will also be sold.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 27.—Lightning struck the wires connected with the Western Union telegraph office during a storm Monday night, passed into the building and destroyed the two switchboards, detaching every wire in the building. The company is now resorting to railroad offices for lines, and it will be several days before the office will again be in working order.

Buckwheat Flour Graham Flour, Rye Flour

Corn Meal, Bolted and Granulated.

Corn, Oats, Ground Feed, Baled Hay, Bran and Linseed Meal,

Of the Best Quality.

We desire to build up a home trade in

Buckwheat Flour,

And we guarantee that all Buckwheat Flour sold from these mills shall be made from Pure Buckwheat, and shall contain no other ingredient.

Our Graham Flour

is made from thoroughly cleaned, Choice, White Winter Wheat. Graham Flour takes its name from Sylvester Graham, the author of a noted treatise on "Bread and Bread Making." It is conceded that bread made from unbolted or Graham Flour, is more healthful and nutritious than fine, white bolted flour, for the reason that it contains more of the gluten, from which the flesh, bone, brain and tissue of the body is built up and sustained.

The whitest and most beautiful bread found upon the tables of the critical American, contains less of the elements of

than the dark colored rye bread in Germany or the heavy loaves found in the knap-sacks of the Russian soldier. Graham bread made from good, clean wheat is very excellent and healthful food. We propose to make and sell this kind of flour.

Corn Meal.

as a staple article of diet in the Eastern and Southern States, and should be more generally used here. Is there a Yankee on the face of the earth, who has wandered so far from the hills of New England, that he has forgotten the baked pork and beans, the rye and the Indian meal bread, or the boiled Indian pudding with which his heart and stomach were gladdened during the days of his boyhood. Hoe cake, Johnny cake, mush and milk, corn meal gems, and Indian meal puddings, with pork and beans, were main articles of diet for the sturdy men and women who subdued and built up the north and western portions of the Union. We offer to the older States of the Union, to their children, grandchildren and families, both the bolted and granulated Corn Meal.

Especial attention is called to our

Minnesota Linseed Meal

It is excellent for dairy stock, and horses when fed with other grain.

The Only Cure For Consumption.

(From the Washington, D. C. National Republican.)

The practice of drenching the human stomach with cod liver oil for consumption, is fast falling into disuse. This is owing to the utterly indigestible properties of this nauseating quackery. There is no stomach in the world that can digest cod liver oil in its pure state. For this reason, a certain per cent. of alcohol enters into the composition of this so-called relief. Consumptives, so soon as they discover the nature of their malady, rush to the nearest drug store and begin at once to take all kinds of nauseating medicines, impure stimulants and poisonous intoxicants. Their stomachs soon become debilitated and deranged, and under such circumstances it is no wonder that they cannot build up the system, nor repair the waste of tissue. In the United States there is probably no disease so universally fatal and so universally feared as consumption. There are few households where there has not been at least one death from it. The public as well as the medical profession, have long ago decided that medicinal agents having the character of food, are the only things that have any value in the treatment of this disease. So important is the use of alcohol in the treatment of disease, that Professor H. C. Wood, Professor of Therapeutics, University of Pennsylvania, says: "In phthisis (consumption) and its congener scrofulosis) scrofula, there can be no doubt as to the great value of alcohol." From a work entitled "An epitome of Medicine, Surgery, Obstetrics and Pathology," consisting of lectures by Professors of the Faculty, University of Penna. viz: Alfred Stille, M. D., LL. D.; D. Hayes Agnew, M. D., L.L. D.; R. A. F. Penrose, M. D., L. L. D.; James Tyson, M. D., under the head of diseases of the Bronchi and Lungs, it says: "Whiskey and food must not be neglected." In the treatment of Influenza, "Alcohol and food must be considered as the type of treatment." In the treatment of Chronic Bronchitis, "Alcoholic stimulant must not be lost sight of, either as permanent or temporary stimulant." In Spasmodic Asthma "Give alcohol." In Pneumonia, "Alcohol and good food are the principal elements in the treatment." In phthisis (consumption) "Alcoholic drinks are nutrients or retarders of tissue waste;" they promote digestion and nutrition. Medicinal alcohol is, of course given in the form of pure whiskey. Duffy's pure malt whiskey is the standard and the purest. The proprietors are the discoverers and only manufacturers in the world of an absolutely pure whiskey.

MILWAUKEE'S MANY HAPPY HOMES.

Milwaukee, "points with pride" to her many homes, from the humble dwellings of the laborers to those beautiful houses of the more wealthy citizens which glorify the city by the lake. It is a fine showing and Milwaukee may well be proud of it, for in the home, wherever it may be, rather than in the crowded tenement or the more luxurious flat, are bred those strong and simple virtues which are the bulwark of the republic and the state. Among these happy homes is that of Mrs. C. W. Brown, at No. 143 Sixth street. Happiness reigns there because the daughter of the house has been snatched from the very jaws of death by what seemed little less than a miraculous cure. As the case has excited great interest among Mrs. Brown's friends and neighbors we give that lady's account of the whole matter just as she herself told it to a visitor. She said:

"We give the credit to Athlophoros for having our daughter alive and well. She had inflammatory rheumatism in such a serious form that we did not know but that she would die every minute. But I will tell you just how it all was, starting at the beginning. She was first taken with what seemed to be nothing but an ordinary stiff neck. I treated her with the usual remedies in such cases, thinking that the trouble would soon pass off; but alas, such was not the case. The disease seemed to spread very quickly over the whole body, giving her the most excruciating pains. These seemed almost beyond her endurance, even for a short time, and caused her to give vent to violent screams, every one of which seemed to pierce my heart.

As soon as the disease took this form I at once sent for a physician. Upon examination he pronounced the case a very bad form of inflammatory rheumatism. He made every endeavor to give my daughter relief, but could not. The disease was steadily growing worse and she began to feel it around her heart. As this was the vital part, and I feared that the child might die before we could give her relief, I said:

"'Doctor, I am not satisfied. This child must have relief at once or she will die. She cannot stand this torture much longer.'

"I thought there must surely be something to give her relief. I had read sometime before this of the cures made by the use of Athlophoros. On the impulse of the moment I said to my husband:

"'I am going to try this Athlophoros. It will do her no harm, even if it does no good.'

"I at once sent after a bottle and began giving her the medicine. To my utter surprise after giving her eight teaspoonfuls she had relief, and in two days she was up and around and did not suffer a pain. All she used was the one bottle."

"Do you not think it a wonderful cure?"

"Yes; Athlophoros is the victor. I wish I could tell all sufferers from rheumatism to use Athlophoros. I feel that it has done so much for me by saving my child's life."

Mr. T. E. Chatfield, the well known contractor, of 365 Eleventh avenue, Milwaukee, was prevented from attending to business on account of rheumatism, he says:

"After using about two-thirds of a bottle of Athlophoros my rheumatism went away as if by some magic power, and in a few days I was entirely well and went about my work."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it of your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Nominated by the President.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—Among the nominations sent to the senate by the president Monday were the following: United States consul—Andrew F. Fay, of Illinois, at Stettin. Patrick O'Malley, of Wisconsin, to be receiver of public moneys at Wausau, Wis. Postmasters—William T. Dowdall, Peoria, Ill.; John W. Fletcher, Battle Creek, Mich.; Charles O. Thiebaud, Vevay, Ind.

Vetoed by the President.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—The president has sent to the senate a communication vetoing the bill which authorized persons having lawful charge of, or control over hospitals, prisons, almshouses, etc., within the District of Columbia, to deliver to medical colleges of the district for the promotion of anatomical science the bodies of deceased persons buried at the public expense.

The Consular Appropriation.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—The bill reported by the house foreign affairs committee Monday reorganizing the consular and diplomatic service, appropriates $780,000 for salaries of said offices. The former bill appropriated about $445,000, but allowed fees aggregating $700,000 in addition.

Manning Moving About Indoors.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 27.—Secretary Manning is now able to walk about the house, and was, Monday, several times down-stairs.

VERY SMART PEOPLE

Manage To Get Arrested for Stealing Forty Thousand Dollars.

MONTREAL, April 27.—Early Monday morning Pinkerton detectives arrested D. R. Smart, his wife Sadie, and brother, George Allen Smart, on the charge of embezzling $40,000 from the great pork-packing house of George Fowler & Son, of Kansas City, Chicago, New York, Boston, Liverpool and London. D. R. Smart was the New York representative of the firm. About three weeks ago he disappeared. The books showed a defalcation in a large amount. A warrant was taken out on the charge of the embezzlement of $45,000. The detectives, learning that Mrs. Smart lived in Lowell, Mass., took up her trail there and traced her, via Sweden, Me., Chichester, N. H., and Portland, Me., to St. Lawrence hall, Montreal, where her husband and she were registered as J. H. Roberts and wife, Bangor, Me. Their room has been watched since Friday, but Smart never left it. They had numerous callers, by one of whom the officers at last identified the inmates of the room by means of a photograph. Sunday a warrant was procured, and the arrest was made at 1 o'clock Monday morning. A writ of attachment has been taken against the luggage of the prisoners.

STRICKEN IN AN INSTANT.

Sudden Death in an Awning Post—The Electric Light Victim Again.

PITTSBURG, April 27.—At 5:45 o'clock Monday evening Edward B. Schaum, of 46 First street, Allegheny City, employed as a driver of James Aiken & Co.'s delivery wagon, was returning home with his team. On reaching the corner of Liberty and Sixth streets, he observed a newsboy fall to the street under peculiar circumstances. Stopping his team, he went to pick the boy up. Stooping forward, his arm came in contact with an iron awning post. He plunged forward with a shriek, and when the bystanders reached him he was dead.

Investigation showed that a broken telephone wire rested on the top of the awning and was crossed with an electric light wire, the awning post conveying the electric fluid to the ground. Schaum is 30 years of age and leaves a widow and two small children. His parents, who reside in Zanesville, Ohio, are very wealthy. The newsboy was badly shocked, but soon recovered.

EIGHT HOURS IN CHICAGO.

Seems to Have a Depressing Effect—Strike and Threatened Lock-out.

CHICAGO, April 27.—About 120 brickmakers in Philip Lichtenstadt's yard went out on strike Monday morning for a reduction of the working day to eight hours and no reduction from the present scale of wages. There are about seventy yards in this city, employing about 1,100 men. If the move becomes general, as everybody engaged in brick-making thinks it will, an almost complete cessation of building operations will occur.

Twelve hundred men, boys and girls employed in Crane Bros.' iron works have signified their intention to enforce a demand for an eight-hour day with no diminution of wages. If the demand is enforced Mr. Crane announces his determination to shut down.

Greece Climbs Down.

LONDON, April 27.—A statement made here early Monday that Greece had agreed to disarm was confirmed later. The Greek chamber of deputies has been convoked. The combined fleet of the powers, which had assembled to coerce Greece, has departed. The sudden termination of the probability of war is received by the Greek people with consternation.

ATHENS, April 27.—The claims of Greece, in contention for which she prepared to wage war against Turkey, now that she has consented to disarm, will be submitted to arbitration.

Baltimore Employers Heard From.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 27.—The furniture manufacturers of Baltimore met Monday and adopted resolutions favoring ten hours for a day's work; neither to encourage or discourage trades-unions; will not be dictated to by any labor organization, and will close their factories if eight hours a day be demanded by the workmen until the arbitration committee decides otherwise.

Time tried and true is Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure, which combines the good qualities of all the best cough remedies without the defects of any of them. It cures promptly and permanently coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, influenza, bronchitis, hoarseness, incipient consumption, and all throat and lung diseases, healing the lungs. Safe and pleasant for children. Price 50 cents and $1.

POWDERLY'S CHANCE.

AN OPENING FOR HIM TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR.

What a Pennsylvania Democrat Says About It—Democrats Inclined to Nominate Him If He Can Divide the Republican Strength—Randall Non-Committal.

CHICAGO, April 27.—The Journal has the following from its Washington City correspondent:

Lieutenant Governor Chauncey F. Black, of Pennsylvania, has been in the city for a few days and has had several consultations with ex-Governor Curtin and Mr. Randall in regard to the coming election in this state. Matters political have been somewhat complicated in the Keystone state since mention has been made of Mr. Powderly for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Prior to the labor troubles which called forth Mr. Powderly's circular and made him a central figure before the country it was thought that Mr. Black was the only Democrat in Pennsylvania who could face the Republican column with any chance of success. Now, however, there is a strong movement to make the Grand Master of the Knights of Labor the nominee, and thus effect a split in the enemy's ranks which might have the same result as the division four years ago which made Pattison governor, notwithstanding the large majority of republican voters. If Powderly could carry with him the labor vote, as it seems he can, there would be no doubt of his election. In conversation with Lieutenant Governor Black correspondent inquired what were the chances of Powderly's nomination.

"That is rather a delicate subject to talk about," said Mr. Black, smilingly. "Of course, you know, I am a candidate for the nomination myself. Public opinion will undergo many changes before the nominating convention meets, but if the Powderly movement extends, and it appears that he can attract enough Republican votes to elect him, you may be sure he will not have a warmer supporter than myself. In the mining districts of Pennsylvania, I am told, all the people are for Mr. Powderly. How it is in the eastern part of the state I cannot say. The Republican majority under ordinary conditions is about 40,000. This year, with Gen. Beaver at the head of the ticket, it is likely to be slightly larger unless divisions arise among the Republicans. The supporters of Mr. Powderly expect that his candidacy will produce such divisions, and allege that at least 25,000 Republicans will vote for him. It is too early to make any predictions, but it is undeniable that a large number of Democrats are in favor of Mr. Powderly's nomination."

"What do Mr. Randall and Governor Curtain think of the matter?" was asked.

"Inquire of them," suggested Mr. Black, as he entered his carriage to visit the capitol.

Mr. Randall, when questioned, said that Powderly was an excellent man. He repeated this several times, but would say nothing about the coming nomination in Pennsylvania.

Fifty Miles on the Wheel.

CLARKSVILLE, Mo., April 27.—The great fifty mile bicycle road race was started promptly at 10 o'clock monday morning. The starters were Weber and Kluge, Smithville, N. J.; Vanborne, of Denver; Whittaker, Stone Gordon, Davies, Hart, Collin and Morris, of St. Louis. Weber won in three hours, seven minutes and 42½ seconds.

Cut off Their Air Supply.

ST. ELMO, Colo., April 27.—The burning of the Tunnel house at the Franklin tunnel here, Monday, cut off the air supply from the six men working in the shaft. Siverson Griesser was smothered to death. The others managed to reach the 300-foot level, and were rescued in an unconscious condition. They are likely to die.

Less Work and More Pay.

CINCINNATI, April 27.—The employes of R. Rothschild's sons, bar fixtures manufacturers, demanded an advance Monday of 20 per cent. for eight hours work per day, to take effect May 1. The demand was refused by the firm, and at noon all the men employed, some sixty-five, went out on strike.

Death of Dr. Mary Walker's Mother.

OSWEGO, N. Y., April 27.—Mrs. Alvah Walker, mother of Dr. Mary Walker, died here Monday night, aged 85 years. She was a cousin of Robert G. Ingersoll.

The upper circles of New York society are agitated over the suit brought against John W. Ball by Miss Elis Coombs for $25,000 damages for seduction under a promise of marriage. Ball has a wife and two children living.

Badly Beaten by Her Rival.

I heard a good story the other day of two ladies who were social rivals. They were on visiting terms, but devoted much of their time to considering how they could surpass each other in the richness and elaboration of their houses and raiment. In the progress of this pleasing rivalry Mrs. A. gave a grand reception, at which she appeared in a new gown of very fine and wonderful texture, which quite surpassed anything that had ever been made into a dress for a lady in the whole history of the town.

Everybody saw the incomparable dress and marveled greatly thereat—that is, everybody except the one unconquerable rival, Mrs. B., who gave a reception at her own house a fortnight later, to which the same people were invited who had attended the reception of Mrs. A. The astonishment of the latter may be imagined when, on entering Mrs. B.'s drawing-room, she beheld all the upholstered furniture in the room covered with precisely the same material as that of the dress with which she had startled her friends two weeks before. In the language of the street, Mrs. B. "got away with her" that time at least.—Washington Capital.

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $8,000,000, and the money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to be United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—The N. Y. Financier.

A Little Sufferer

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me great pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now, consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,

May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease. MAGGIE HOPPING.

Catharral Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing, to feel that the system does not through its veins and arteries suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR COUGHS, CROUP AND CONSUMPTION USE TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY

OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN.

The sweet gum, as gathered from a tree of the same name, growing along the small streams in the Southern States, contains a stimulating expectorant principle that loosens the phlegm producing the early morning cough, and stimulates the child to throw off the false membrane in croup and whooping-cough. When combined with the healing mucilaginous principle in the mullein plant of the old fields, presents in TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN the finest known remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping-cough and Consumption; and so palatable, any child is pleased to take it. Ask your druggist for it. Price, 25c and $1. Walter A. Taylor, Atlanta, Ga.

—The party who holds No. 386 please call and get the bonnet at McCullagh & Galbraith's.

—Mrs. E. F. Sayre, of Fulton, was the fortunate holder of ticket No. 37, which drew the prize pattern dress at the New York Saving Store. No. 63 takes the hat.

—Mr. J. H. Field, of this city, received a dispatch from Worcester, Massachusetts, yesterday, conveying the sad intelligence of the death of his mother, Mrs. Julia Field, aged 94 years.

—The store on Milwaukee street occupied by Samuel Wyler is now being gone over by the painters. When finished the outside will be dark green trimmed with red, while the inside will be a light shade of blue.

—Charles A. Gardner, the German dialect comedian supported by an excellent company, will appear at the opera house this evening, in the great comedy, Karl, the Peddler.

—The Ladies' Christian Union of the First Methodist church will meet tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the church. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected. A full attendance is requested.

—In the Connors-Drake case Justice Prichard to-day gave a decision for the defendant. This afternoon a suit for personal damages is before this court, the Parties being the young men who had a set-to in Stillson's saloon some time ago.

—Yesterday Governor Rusk issued commissions to F. H. Koeblin as Captain Joseph Clark first lieutenant, and Perry E. Frink, second lieutenant of Company B. First regiment, of Janesville, the Bower City Rifles.

—The water commissioners met last night and elected John J. R. Pease, Esq. president of the board. No other business was done, the rest of the time being devoted to a discussion of the course to be pursued in beginning.

—The picture of Edinburg, on exhibition in R. W. King's window, attracts much attention, especially from the Scotchmen who pass by. It is a picture that was brought over by Dr. James Mills when he returned from the old country and is said to be very true picture.

—Only one case in the circuit court calendar for to-day was ready for trial, and all of the others were continued. The one that came on was that of Michael Egan against Mrs. M. J. Moore. Fethers, Jeffris & Smith appeared for the defendant but there being no appearance for the plaintiff, the case was dismissed.

—At the semi-annual muster of the Bower City Rifles and the Janesville Guards last evening, the former organization turned out forty-nine men out of a possible fifty-three, which was considered a very complimentary showing. The Guards turned out thirty five strong. Lieutenant Colonel J. B. LaGrange was he inspecting officer, —At the annual parish meeting of Christ church, held at that edifice last evening, Hon. J. J. R. Pease and Dr. J. B. Whiting were elected wardens; H. Merrill, H. D. McKinney, B. B. Eldredge. F. F. Stevens, Dr. C. L. Martin, Thomas Lappin, William Ruger and John Slightam, were elected vestrymen for the ensuing year.

—At the meeting of the Horticultural society last evening, a committee, consisting of Geo. J. Kellogg, E. B. Heimstreet, H. S. Woodruff, Frank Loudon, and J. G. Williams, was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the June meeting of the state society in this city. No other important business.

—The St. Patrick's T. A. and B. society pleasantly entertained a large company of their friends at the Guards armory last evenings by a dancing party. The excellent music was furnished by Smith & Corliss' full orchestra, and a magnificent banquet was provided by Golling, at which a large party gathered and partook of the many good things which were spread upon the tables.

—The Easter egg festival at All Souls church last night was a very enjoyable affair. In the Sunday school room were spread tables on which were all kinds of substantials and delicacies. Those who ventured into the room were at once taken in charge by some of the charming young ladies, and were made to fairly revel in eggs prepared after every recipe known. The festival was quite a success, and will be remembered with pleasure.

—The Janesville Concordia society held a social anniversary entertainment as their hall in the Mitchell block last evening, for the amusement of members, their families, and a few invited guests. The exercises of the evening consisted of a musical and literary programme, concluding with a social dance. The Concordia society is now one of the leading institutions in Janesville, and the entertainments given by the members at the Concordia hall are among the most enjoyable. It is a genuine pleasure to attend them.

Personal.

—State Senator S. L. Lord, of Edgerton, was a caller at the Gazette office this afternoon.

—Miss May Guernsey returned from California yesterday, and at Chicago met her sister, Miss Minerva Guernsey, who came with her to this city.

The Weather.

THE SIXTY SEVENTH

Anniversary of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

The Members in This City Celebrate it Very Appropriately.

The Exercises.

Yesterday was the sixty seventh anniversary of the founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in this country. The day was celebrated all over the state, the lodges at Eau Claire and Madison having very elaborate programmes. In this city the exercises were under the auspices of the Janesville Lodge No. 90 and Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, and the Rifles' armory was well filled with the members and their friends.

The programme opened with music from Anderson's orchestra. Prof. C. H. Keyes, who was muster of ceremonies, made a few opening remarks in which he made brief allusions to the prominent features of the order.

He was followed by a quartette, the singers being C. E. Church, C. N. Vankirk, Clarence L. Clark and O. G. Bennett, Miss Clara Church acting as accompanist.

Captain Pliny Norcross was announced as the first speaker.

Mr. Norcross spoke of the organization of the Independent Order of Odd Fellops sixty-seven years ago and gave a sketch of the working and aims of the order. He said: "This anniversary carries us back to the times of John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson, to the simple tastes of our forefathers. People lived to a good old age and when they died it was from some standard disease. When they passed in their checks they had the satisfaction of knowing that they would travel on the main line. Suppose that a reliable prophet had predicted that before the children playing around the old homestead would reach old age the spinning wheel would be cut into kindling wood, the tallow dip superseded by gas and electricity and that every employment requiring labor should be simplified and shortened. If the prophet was believed everyone would of course be certain that life would be a season of leisure, culture and enjoyment, and the wonder would be what people would find to do. We who have tried all these improvements know that we get no more comfort than those who lived sixty years ago did—probably not so much. We are in such a hurry, and there is so much to be attended to, that we don't have time to do anything well. Ours is a generation of nervous, hurrying, excitable men and women. But you say, "what has this to do with Odd Fellows?" Is not this the temple of Love, Friendship and Truth? Are not these the emblems of those two traits of character that enoble life and should we not all live so that the afternoon of our life shall linger along into the golden sunset? One of the most unfortunate and widespread evils of this decade has its origin in the general feeling of envy and dissatisfaction, for the leaders of most of the strikes are, I believe, men dissatisfied with the lot in life which they themselves have chosen. They become communists or socialists, forgetting that if all the property in the world were distributed equally, this equality would last only a day. All labor is honorable and all labor brings its reward; but of what avail is it to us that we have laws and constitutions which guarantee us freedom and equality, if a few dissatisfied demagogues in each city or community can deprive an honest man of labor and daily bread unless he joins their order and obeys their unlawful rules. Your organization, strong in numbers and long experience; rich in good works and abounding in friendship and charity, can help to solve some of these problems. In the language of Burns,

'Within your dear mansion may wayward contention
Or withering envy ne'r enter.
May secrecy round be the mystical bound,
And brotherly love be the center.'

Mrs. F. M. Hawley favored the audience with a solo, "Stay With Me," by Abt. She was in excellent voice, and as the last notes of the beautiful song died away, she was heartily applauded.

B. F. Dunwiddie took the place on the programme that was to have been filled by H. A. Patterson and his speech which was entirely extemporaneous, was very well received. After explaining his position he said: "It has been noted as a remarkable fact that Jesus of Nazareth confined his work to the poor and lowly. The circles of the best society were open to him, but he chose not to enter, and some of the most powerful lessons that he ever taught were addressed to the poor and ignorant. Eighteen centuries have rolled away since then, and we are just beginning to realize that the most important thing that anyone can do is to elevate the masses As I look at the Odd Fellows I see that upon this principle the order is founded. These works of which others have just spoken and of which we are so proud have been done by poor men, and it is to this that I point with pleasure. Here to the lodge come men who have themselves been poor and who therefore know what it is. They know how to reach our a helping hand to a brother in need and it is partly for this reason that the order has such a power for good."

"Evening", another of Abt's compositions was rendered by Mrs. Hawley, and was received with as much pleasure as was her first number,

The quartette gave "How Can I Leave Thee" in a very pleasing manner, the selection being greeted with applause.

Stereopticon views shown by J. B. Noyes, of the fourth ward, finished the programme. The views were excellent, and scenes in Europe and America were put before the audience with unusual accuracy and clearness.

After that the floor was cleared for dancing and from then until well into the morning the flying feet kept time to Anderson's orchestra. Supper was furnished by Mrs. Thomas Gray. The whole affair was pronounced very enjoyable, as the Odd Fellows' parties always are; and when the dancers dispersed it was in the hopes of meeting again under the same pleasant auspices.

Consolidation.

The two morning dailies announced to the public this morning that they had consolidated, the Chronicle retiring from the field, and commending its patrons to the tender mercies of the Recorder. That journal will continue to voice the sentiments and guard the interests of the democratic party. There are no more worlds to conquer save the postoffice and the street commissioners, and the cloud of uncertainty which envelopes these two sublunary spheres, renders it extremely difficult for the democratic organ to penetrate with any degree of accuracy. That the journal will be sufficiently pronounced in politics to satisfy the most fastidious is assured beyond question, in spite of the "independent course" suggested by the retiring contemporary. The vision of readers running up among the thousands which came floating in on the flickering light of the midnight lamp will assume a different aspect by daylight.

The Gazette wishes the Recorder success, believing that the people of Janesville can endure two daily papers. The democracy will have no cause to complain of the purity of doctrine emanating from the River street sanctum, while the republicans may be tolerably certain that the Gazette will remain with the party with which it has been identified for the past thirty years.

If you are sighing for democratic consolation, subscribe for the Recorder; it you don't sigh that way, exhibit the light of your smiling countenance at the Gazette headquarters on Main street. If you have occasion to advertise, use both papers. "Business is business, politics isn't.

Their Defective Vision.

Yesterday afternoon a small group of clerks from some of the stores on South Main street stood in the alley near the river bank sunning themselves. It is said that they had come out for a social game of marbles but as to this we have no definite information. They stood talking together for several minutes, and then realizing that there was work to be done, they started back to their respective places of business. At least that seemed to be the idea, but the sun had evidently dazzled their eyes, for, unable to distinguish one back door from another, they wandered aimlessly along toward the little building where Shurtleff had been making ice cream and where three big canfulls of the frozen sweetness stood without any one to watch them. Each of the young men apparently supposed that he was in his own store, for each made him self perfectly at home; and they would very likely have been eating yet if the proprietor hadn't heard them and called out from the next room to inquire if they wouldn't like some dishes. As it was they stopped very suddenly, and each one realized that his confused vision had carried him into the wrong place This was explained to the proprietor, and the visitors left, first supplying their genial host with a handful of cigars on condition that he kept their color blindness to himself.

—The Recorder claims very modestly that with the accession of the Times and Chronicle, 5,000 readers in Rock county receive enlightenment through its columns. This is true beyond question. The county has a population of about 40,000, and the Recorder is extremely modest when it only claims an eight of the population as readers. The Gazette has enjoyed the pleasure of speaking to more than half the entire population of the county for the past quarter of a century, with several outlying districts not figured in. The field is large and the Recorder should improve its opportunities.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure

COD LIVER OIL, WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Possesses the remedial power of those two valuable specific in their fullest degree. Is prepared in a palatable form, easily tolerated by the stomach, and for delicate, sickly children, Emaciation, Consumption and all impoverished conditions of the blood is unequaled by any other remedy.

I have used Athlophoros for rheumatism with the most satisfactory results and it has also cured my husband of neuralgia in the face. Mrs. Dorsey, wife of J. C. Dorsey, superintendent of the Louisville and Jeffersonville Ferry Co., Jeffersonville, Ind.

What a Change!

A few short weeks ago that young girl was the personification of health, vigor and beauty. The blush upon her cheeks rivalled that of the rose; her step was light and buoyant, her every movement was a revelation of perfect physical health Yet now she is pallid and haggard, and her superabundant vitality has given place to a strange dullness and lassitude. What has caused this change? Functional irregularities, which can be cured by Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," a remedy to which thousands of women to-day owe their lives. All druggists.

Ely's Cream Balm is an article of undoubted merit. It has no rival as a catarrh remedy. It is pleasant and easy to use, being applied with the finger. It is absorbed, cleansing the passages of poisonous virus and healing the sore and inflamed membrane. Beneficial results are obtained from a few applications and a thorough treatment will cure. Price 50c.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm for dry catarrh (to which eastern persons are subject who come to live here.) It has proved a cure.—B. F. M. Weeks, Denver, Col.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best salve in the world for cuts bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cent per box. For sale by F. Sherer & Co.

A perfect specific—Dr. Sage's Catarrh remedy.

The Stomach as a Gasometer.

In the dyspeptic stomach impure gases are generated, after meals, that distend and distress it, as well as the bowels. The best carminative for cramps, colicky pains and heartburn or bilious eructations is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Carbonate of soda and effervescing aperients are far inferior to it in efficacy, and as physicians now understand, impair the tone of the stomach. Copious libations of any sort are injurious to the stomach, and to dilute its juices is certainly not the way to increase their digestive usefulness. Aided by the Bitters, the digestive organs, when enfeebled and disordered, regain their lost tone and regularity, not, of course, immediately, but with a degree of rapidity highly indicative of the excellence of the remedy. It has the further effect of regulating the bowels and liver, protecting the system against malaria, relieving rheumatism and neuralgia, and increasing constitutional vigor.
